Press Release - Severals, Algorithm

Severals have been at it this year with their onslaught of releases of singles, music videos and visualizers as well as their fun videos.

The journey of singles started in March with the release of STORM, blowing the listeners away with heavy downtuned guitar riffs, atmospheric verses led by Dominik and his fantastic voice.

The band has released the whole album in the form of individual singles, offering their fans something new each month and keeping the conversations and media excited about their work.

The album is now out and consists of 9 full tracks and 3 instrumental interludes, separating the album into parts. Each song is quite distinctive, yet true to the band's signature sound and style. Severals have experimented with different sounds and influences from other genres, which makes the listening experience of the record fresh and intriguing.

The whole album was recorded with Pavel Chyška - Prague based producer who has worked with local acts like Fall from Everest or Lighthouse Keeper. Mix and Mastering is the courtesy of Australia's metalcore producer Lance Prence who is known for his studio and live work with many bands like Polaris, Alpha Wolf, Diamond Construct, Thornhill and Ten56.

What does the band have in store next? Prior to the release they have hinted at new material that's in the works. Let's wait and hope their new stuff will be just as good and better than Algorithm.
